Latest Television Project

Property Insider<sup>TM</sup>

Lion's Share Entertainment/Sell-A-Vision, the infomercial company at Universal Studios, in Orlando, Florida, is pleased to announce their latest television project - Property Insider<sup>TM</sup>.

Property Insider is a new national television program that will soon be test marketed in the Orlando area. Hosted by Paul P. Partyka, the show will reach across all aspects of real estate and property issues, with its first episodes covering such diverse topics as real estate investment, financing your real estate deals, and how successful restaurant franchises look for real estate. Each week viewers will be brought inside the world of property, in order to learn first hand how some of the most successful real estate owners became that way. Throughout each episode, Paul will also be sharing several quick tips and pointers that will help the viewer quickly become knowledgeable about the world of real estate.

For those who already consider themselves to insiders, the producers are always looking for interesting real estate stories and companies in the business. If you'd like to appear on the show, you can submit them directly to Lion's Share Entertainment at raustin@lions-share-ent.com.

There are still a few positions open to companies interested in becoming a show sponsor. Discount advertising rates are available while the show is testing locally, and sponsors who get in now will be able to take advantage of lower rates once the show goes national. Take advantage of the opportunity and contact Lion's Share Entertainment/Sell-A-Vision at 407-224-6431, or on the web at www.lions-share-ent.com.
