

Lion's Share - Outstanding in the Field- with Wonder Claw™!

Highly successful infomercial innovator, Lion's Share Entertainment, at Universal Studios, has teamed up with Chris Fields, the California inventor of the new must-have invention - the Wonder Claw™! A consummate gardener by day, and inventor at night, Mr. Fields wanted to create something to help him pick up leaves and yard debris left over from days spent gardening. What he wound up with however, was much, much more. He dubbed it - the Wonder Claw™!

Rick Austin, Executive Producer, and Chris Fields, Inventor of the Wonder Claw™, where they debuted the new invention at a recent investor event, held at Universal Studio's Sound Stage 25.

The Wonder Claw™'s simple design betrays its amazing versatility. Leaves, weeds, rags, toys, - the Wonder Claw™ can easily grasp them all. It can be used to pick up leaves and branches, weed the garden, pick up pet droppings, and can even wring out greasy rags- without ever having to bend over- relieving strain on your back. While the Wonder Claw™ can almost sell itself, Mr. Fields has teamed with Lion's Share Entertainment in order to bring his revolutionary new product to market. By using Lion's Share's lucrative method of reinvesting in media and by offering revenue sharing to investors, Mr. Fields, as well as his investors, will be able to profit instantly, as they bring the Wonder Claw™ to larger and larger markets with this self-funding and self-perpetuating marketing strategy.
